

CATHY GREENBLAT, PhD

Cathy Greenblat is Professor Emerita of Sociology at Rutgers University where she served for 35 years as a member of the Department of Sociology, Women's Studies, and the Bloustein School of Planning. The author of 15 books and more than 100 articles, she has lectured in the USA, Latin America, Eastern and Western Europe, Russia, Ghana, Cameroon, the Philippines, China, Australia, and Japan. Since 2002 she has been engaged in her personal cross-cultural photographic projects on aging, dementia, and end of life care, with collaborations with several organizations, particularly Alzheimer's Disease International (ADI).

Cathy served as an Honorary Research Fellow at the International Observatory on End of Life Care, Lancaster University, UK from 2006-2010 and as an Honorary Professor at Glasgow Caledonian University, Scotland, from 2011-2014. She has a continuing appointment as a Researcher in Human Sciences and Photography at the Center for Memory Resources and Research (CMRR), University of Nice, France, after serving as an Artist in Residence at the University Hospital Network (CHU) there for 10 years. In 2017-2018 she served as Photographer in Residence at the University of Worcester in the TAnDEM program directed by Prof Dawn Brooker (though she was not actually "in residence" most of the year!) Since 2014 she has been collaborating with Australian filmmaker Corinne Maunder on a series of multimedia films showing what high quality dementia care is.

Professor Greenblat has been selected to have her work archived at the Beinecke Library at Yale University. It is accessible in the Women in Photography International Archive, Western Americana Collection, and the Beinecke Rare Book and Manuscript Library/Yale University.
